

(turn off, take off, drop off, cut off, pay off)

Use the correct tense. Each phrasal verb is used more than once.

- Please _____ the lights before you leave the room.
- He _____ his shoes at the door before entering.
- Can you _____ me _____ at the mall around 5?
- She _____ her headphones when the teacher walked in.
- They forgot to _____ the oven, and the food burned.
- The power was _____ during the storm.
- We finally _____ our credit card debt last month.
- I'll _____ the documents at your office later today.
- He worked hard for years, and it really _____ in the end.
- The phone call was _____ because of poor signal.
- She _____ her jacket and hung it in the closet.
- I want to _____ my student loan early to save money.
- Don't forget to _____ the air conditioner before going out.
- The internet got _____ while I was downloading the file.
- The plane _____ 30 minutes later than expected.
- He _____ the box at the reception desk.
- Her late nights studying finally _____ when she passed the exam.

(turn off, take off, drop off, cut off, pay off)

Use the correct tense. Each phrasal verb is used more than once.

- Please turn off the lights before you leave the room.
- He took off his shoes at the door before entering.
- Can you drop me off at the mall around 5?
- She took off her headphones when the teacher walked in.
- They forgot to turn off the oven, and the food burned.
- The power was cut off during the storm.
- We finally paid off our credit card debt last month.
- I'll drop off the documents at your office later today.
- He worked hard for years, and it really paid off in the end.
- The phone call was cut off because of poor signal.
- She took off her jacket and hung it in the closet.
- I want to pay off my student loan early to save money.
- Don't forget to turn off the air conditioner before going out.
- The internet got cut off while I was downloading the file.
- The plane took off 30 minutes later than expected.
- He dropped off the box at the reception desk.
- Her late nights studying finally paid off when she passed the exam.